DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-26, 31-32, and 41-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claim 1 recites "excluding sugar-in-oil suspensions and nut pastes and nut butters". It is not clear whether these components are the composition itself, or the carrier liquid.

4. Claim 5 recite phrases such as "(other than... nut spread)" and "(such as...)". It is not clear whether these limitations are required or not.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-29, 31-32, 37, and 41-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shuford et al [Pat. No. 4,375,483].

Art Unit: 1761

Shuford et al teach a composition comprising flavor particulates suspended in oil (abstract), the particulates having a size of 1-10 micrometers (column 4, line 59), lecithin (column 5, lines 36-56), free-flow agents such as silicas (column 5, lines 58-68) and tricalcium phosphate (column 4, line 44), emulsifiers (column 7, line 34), the composition inherently possessing a viscosity of 50-100 mPa/s, at least 95% adhesion, and a solids content of about 30%, the oil being liquid at room temperature, an absence of nuts, the use of any oil including rapeseed (column 2, line 44; column 3, line 35), and use as baking improvement agent and on cookies (column 8, lines 11-22). Phrases such as "using a low shear high impact milling method" are merely preferred methods of making the claimed product.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 30 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shuford et al as applied above, in view of Huffman [Pat. No. 4,612,204].

Shuford et al teach the above mentioned components. Shuford et al do not recite ascorbic acid. Huffman teaches a composition comprising ascorbic acid (column 4, line 39). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the ascorbic acid of Huffman into the invention of Shuford et al since both are directed to food compositions, since Shuford et al already included optional ingredients such as flavors (column 7, lines 30-68), and since the ascorbic acid of Huffman would have provided added flavor while also being a good source of vitamin C.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed December 13, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Shuford et al teach away from adhesion of greater than 85%. However, applicant does not provide any evidence to back up this assertion. Furthermore, applicant also claims the use of "free-flow enhancing agents" in all of the independent claims.

Conclusion

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
